“ So sorry we could not make it to the services. We have nothing but good memories of Johnny. He always had a smile and was so pleasant to be around. I remember us visiting them and he and Gloria couldn't do enough to make us feel welcome. Prayers for the family during your grief.

“ Like other members of the Stillwater Bass Club, I fished with John many times. Every trip was a learning experience and a treasured memory. The trip that stands out the most, though was about 4 years ago.

John and I spent the day fishing above Fenner Road. At one point I needed to relieve myself and, not being steady enough on my feet to stand up in his boat, I asked him to back up to the bank so I could jump out. John backed the boat right up to the bank and I spun my seat around and stepped out onto the bank. When I was finished, I sat back down in my seat and, without giving it much thought, I used my feet to push off of the bank. I never heard a sound, but when I spun my seat around to the front again, there was John, on his back in the bottom of the boat, with his legs up in the air. "Oh my God I killed John Stacey!" was my first thought. John sat on a bench seat in his boat and didn't have a backrest, so when I pushed off from the bank I basically pushed the boat right out from under him. I asked him if he was Ok and he said "Yep". Then I asked him if he needed help. "Yep" he said. I helped him back onto his seat and asked him if he was sure he was OK. "Yep". We fished the rest of the day and he seemed fine. John and I won a few tourneys together, but that day wasn't one of them. I'm sure that fact bothered him more than the fact I almost killed him. John was truly a great man in so many ways. I'm so very sorry for your loss. John will be greatly missed.

“ John and Gloria were our neighbors growing up. Their younger son, Nevin was closer to my age. I remember watching John tie flies at a workbench in his garage, always fascinated by the meticulous work. He was a quiet, hardworking man, and a good neighbor. Gloria, Gary, and Nevin and family - I'm very sorry for your loss - I'm sure you will miss John very much. Rest in peace, dear neighbor. Cindy (Sauer) Dixon
