“ Angie, I am so sorry for your loss. Your mother is at peace and you should take comfort in knowing that you were the best daughter she could ever have asked for. You were with her through thick and thin, and made her last years pleasant and comfortable. She was lucky to have you for a daughter and i know she felt that way too. I can still hear her saying almost every time I saw her in recent years. " A son is a son till he takes a wife, but a daughter is your daughter all of your life." My very favorite memory of her is when we went to see the Blue Man Group and how she just be-bopped with everyone else and hit that big ball that came floating through the audience. You made her final years interesting and fun for her.

Keeping you in my prayers,
Rosie
