““Mr. Paul” as he asked us to call him was our first friend and neighbor when we moved from San Antonio, Texas to Dayton over ten years ago. My wife has more delightful memories than I as she had more opportunities to meet with Mr. Paul. Our children (now grown and or off to college) loved him as well. We will truly miss him; and we are reminded how we need to visit with our friends even more while they are alive because later we might not have that opportunity. Mr. Paul, we will all miss you very much. You were a great friend and neighbor. God be with you as I know He will be.”

“Uncle Paul taught me to love pork and sauerkraut. He made the best. I also loved all of his jokes...even the ones he told every time I saw him. Like the bag of 50s and the redhead. We will miss you Uncle Paul.”
