

Todd Paul Bushbaum

October 18, 1973 - November 28, 2019

On Thursday November 28, 2019, Todd P. Bushbaum, Husband, father and brother passed away suddenly at the age of 46 years. Todd will be forever remembered by his wife and best friend Angi and their daughter Madison; by his mother Mary Jo; brothers Scott and David Graeme (Karla) Deas; numerous nieces and nephews; extended family and close friends. Todd is preceded in death by his father Dean and stepfather David Deas.

Todd was a graduate of Centerville High School. He held several Sales / Manager positions over the years ending with DPSG (7-up).

Todd had a passion for Ohio State Football and open-wheel racing and was a member of the YFDS family. He was a member of the Bark Brothers BBQ Team and won Grand Champion at the Madison Indiana Competition. He loved watching Madison play softball and spending as much time as he could with his friends

Todd told me once that he had one goal in life, and that was to make me laugh every day. For the last 29 years he has never failed me. I have learned that even in his death, he is still making me laugh. Please everyone keep sharing your stories...

“ I am so sorry to hear of his passing.
I truly believe that he and Jon Reiff are sitting somewhere and telling stories and sharing refreshments.

“ Todd and I built a WOW Christmas display at an area Walmart one year at the grocery Entrance we used 350 cases of 12 packs. I said to Todd do you think we should tape the top 12 packs together? For stability? He said nah we're doing a good job building it shouldn't need to. Christmas Eve I get a frantic phone call early in the morning Steve get your a$$ over here and bring any repack tape you can find. I get to the store and Todd meets me at the door with a 😬 look on his face we get inside mind you this is just inside the main grocery entrance... The display was leaning in 2 inches. We sat there taping the 12 packs together for about 2 hours . He told me he was at home thinking about it while laying in bed and thought we should have taped it. We laughed about it afterwards . Could have been ugly.

“ Todd was a good friend to my husband Barry who also passed away last year right before Christmas. His daughter Madison and our niece Madison were only a couple months apart. Whenever they would meet up they would give each an update on the girls. I've since seen Todd at Elsa's and would say hi and give him a big hug and say you know who that is from. They are now together again. I know what you and your family are going through. Time will heal your sorrow.

“ I don't know how many race tracks, friends homes and other places I shared with "Hardpoint" over the years. He was like another brother to me and all of the YFDS family...the "fractious band of thugs" we are.

The was rumblings of getting the "band back together", another large gathering of our right group. I was super excited about this as it has been a few years since I have seen some of our people. I never dreamed that an occasion like this would bring us all together again. I'm hoping we can still all meet again at a race track in the near future.

“ 2004-ish, Road America racetrack. Todd and I both needed showers, desperately. And we may have been drinking all day. After dark, Todd and I went down to the restroom building which housed a couple showers. Not nice ones... no place to put your clothes, so you disrobed in a dry area and kind of piled your clothes for quick access when you got out. Then you stood in que to jump in the shower. Todd and I, with our Adonis-like bodies, waited our turns while trying not to make eye contact with other guys in line. I said something to him about how I guess this made us "true" friends. He chuckled, nervously. As he walked into the shower, he looked back at me and said, "This feels like the beginning of a really bad Burt Reynolds movie". Everyone in there howled with laughter, and they were still laughing after we were done and walked out of the shower house. Dude could make anyone laugh, any time.

Cheers, buddy.

“ 'YFDS Family' - never a more true statement.

Late 2011 I had a medical condition where I couldn't use the right side of my body. Todd, Neil, Bob and I had all taken a golf cart to the back turns at the Petit-LeMans race in Atlanta. I was having trouble making it down the hill. The guys were a bit ahead of me.. Halfway down, I see Todd stop and say something to Bob and Neil. They all turned around, ran back up the hill, picked me up and carried me down to be able to see the track. I saw him be kind to so many people. But this is what I will always remember.

“ Madison and I are asking for people to share their "Todd Stories". He has done a lot of nice things and a lot of stupid things, but I would love everyone to share a story. Lets all smile and laugh together.
